Scenario

I'm Dwayne and will….or was going to be a movie star. Acting for my family, theater at my high school, the community playhouse, it was all about me because I slayed on the stage. My next step was a trip to Hollywood to go big. I didn't think the studios would ever reject me because I thought everyone wanted to be me. But, today it's hard to get out of bed and to think about the excitement that I felt about acting, fame, and the movies. The down always goes away and then I'm back to myself. This last time, though, I was down a bit longer and lower than usual. I wasn't eating or leaving my room and I started cutting myself, so my parents took me to see a doctor. She explained that I had a bipolar disorder and I was cycling between mania, which is when I'm partying with friends and chasing a new future ex-love, and depression, which is where I am now….in bed and trying to remember what it felt like to be happy. The doctor prescribed some meds to help me balance it out, but I'm worried that it will bring me down and make me boring. I want the clubbing life, the excitement, the inhibition, but we'll see what the next week brings. Maybe balancing my ups and downs will make it possible to enjoy acting again.
